To Teachers.

The joint Institute of Garrard and Boyle counties will be held at Junction City August 31. The law requires all teachers to attend, or they forfeit their certificates.

County Superintendent.

Diplomacy.

The County Fair was booming and the rings were filling fine.

The Horses and the Women; two divinities divine.

Next came the fancy turnout, and the competition keen;

Like Kentucky hospitality, could be felt as well as seen.

Among the several entries (there were eight or ten I think)

The Judges seemed to center on a maiden fair in pink.

Her horse could do a little, her appointments only fair,

But the maiden, boys, the MAIDEN, my, but she was there.

She had a kinder beauty that would reach out into space,

And permeate the atmosphere like roses in a vase,

Her "Merry Widow" bonnet was about four feet across,

And tilted kinder sideways so that neither man nor hoss

Could get out of her vision; and below her dress of pink,

Was a little tiny something that I can't describe in ink.

It was housed in patent leather, with a button for a clasp

And had a silk accomplice that fairly made you gasp.

She pulled up to the Judges stand with every nerve alert,

She'd fuss her lines a trifle then she'd toy with her skirt,

Unconsciously? She crossed her knee, as if she really knew;

The Judge looked once (did I say once?) and tied on her the blue.

The Moral to this story is—That in Life's social whirl—

You'll get the "Blues" and pleasures too, if you only get the GIRL.

A good many boys and young men are so solicitous about the salary or wages they are to receive that they forget that they must first earn the money. The young person who will make himself useful need not worry about his wages. He will get all he earns and will hold his job just so long as he makes himself valuable to the firm that employs him. The first thing that a young man should inquire about when seeking a position, is the duties required of him and whether he can perform them. If the first question he asks is the amount of the wage, the chances are that he will not get the place.

It would be highly refreshing if the press of the country would be content to devote time and space to the candidates and not persist in exploiting all the family relations even to the remote cousins four or more times removed. The public can not have any real interest in the private affairs of even the most prominent candidate. The man and the issue should be ample in furnishing subjects for discussion and let the remainder of the family rest in the seclusion of the home.

Thus far there is every indication that the campaign of 1908 will go down into history as the one from which mud slinging was entirely and completely eliminated. It is to be hoped that the present indications will carry throughout the entire campaign. There is nothing to be gained by mud slinging and no real men ever engage in it.

A woman with an eye for figures has ciphered it out that there are in the United States exactly 1,294,500 bachelors. No doubt there are at least an equal number of maidens who would be willing to obliterate the whole number by subtracting one at a time from the sum total.

It is now up to the fellow who predicts, to commence on his job of telling just how it is impossible for the other party to win. The chances are, though, that it will require the counting of the ballots next November to fully determine the result.

Down in Pennsylvania Mr. I. Treat is running for office. Well, that is what most candidates do no matter where they are running. It sort of goes without saying that the treat is on the fellow who seeks office.

There must be a bit of humor mixed in with the fates now and then. Recently a young man in the state of Illinois, by the name of Frock, married a girl by the name of Coat. It was a regular dress affair.

Some one wants to know how long a dream lasts. Well it depends on the dream and the dreamer. Some persons dream most of the time.

An advertisement in a city paper says: "Bathing suits half off." In that event there will be but mighty little left on.

We would be entirely willing to look for the good traits of the people we don't like if it were not such discouraging work.

Some girls find the most distressing thing about a broken engagement to be the giving back the diamond ring.

Self conceit is like brandy—we don't like to see the effect of it in the other fellow, but it feels good at home.

Eager Bros bought a lot of shoats from Mr Rogers at 4c. They also purchased several shoats from Robt Rout at same price.

Rev Shouse filed his appointment at the Fork church Sunday morning preaching from the text: "They shall mount up on wings as eagles, they shall walk and not faint." Messrs Shouse and Willet delighted the audience with a beautiful cornet duet. The cornet solo, "Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep" played by Mr Willet was also much enjoyed.

Rev Shouse closed a short series of meetings at Orchard Grove school house, Saturday evening resulting in three professions. The ordinance of baptism taking place at King's Mill Sunday afternoon. Mr Shouse is now engaged in a two weeks meeting at Pleasant Hill school house which began Monday evening. The music is led by Mr Willet, of Paris. Mr Willet is a cultivated musician and is a cornetist of ability oftentimes delighting the audience with beautiful solos.

IMPROVEMENTS BEGUN In Earnest in Danville.

On Tuesday, July 28, at 2 P. M., thirty five beautiful lots, with concrete walks and streets macadamized and rolled in the most modern manner, will be sold at public auction without reserve or by bid. One good lot will be given absolutely free upon the following conditions—Every white man and woman attending the sale and registering their names with the clerk, free of cost, will be given a ticket entitling them to a chance on the lot. The lucky number will be drawn in the presence of the gathered crowd, immediately at the conclusion of the sale. These lots located on beautiful Alta Avenue, one of the most desirable resident districts of this rapidly growing town, offer a rare opportunity to the investor or home seeker alike. All property in Danville has gradually increased in price for the past twenty years and there is not a vacant house in the town. Yet there are hundreds of people seeking homes at high rentals. Great care has been exercised in the preparation of these lots for sale in the hope of interesting the best class of people in the best part of town. Come and bring your friends and register. It costs you nothing, you may be the lucky one. Free band concerts throughout the sale. Danville is the home of Central University and Caldwell College, two of the greatest institutions of learning in the state. This city has recently been made the division of the Cincinnati Southern railway. In a recent issue the Danville Advocate said, "The lots on beautiful high Alta Avenue, are the most desirable in the whole town."

July 6 1908. H T Logan, Mayor.
Attest W B Mason, Clerk.

The New School Law.

The County Superintendent of Schools has requested me to make a brief synopsis of the school law enacted by the last General Assembly.

Garrard County has been divided into four educational divisions by the County Superintendent, County Judge and County Attorney as directed by this law. Educational division No 1 is the part of the county about Lancaster and is about the same territory as is now embraced in Magisterial district No 1, known as the Lancaster district.

Educational district No 2 is in the portion of the county about Bryantville, and is about the same territory as included in the Bryantville magisterial district. Educational division No 3 is about the same territory as embraced in the Buckeye and Walker's School House voting precincts or the Buckeye magisterial district. Educational division No 4 is about the same territory as is included in the Union and Paint Lick voting precincts or what is known as the Paint Lick magisterial district.

Each of these four Educational divisions mentioned have been divided into school sub districts. The boundary of the sub districts of each of the four educational divisions are about the same as the boundary of each of the white school district as now exist. We have not changed the names or numbers of the white school districts of the county. Under the law the colored school districts are the same as the white district. This makes quite a change in the boundaries of the colored school districts of the county. The colored people can learn the boundaries of their respective districts by calling upon the County Superintendent of Schools.

Under the operations of this law there will be in each sub district but one trustee, under the old law there were three.

This trustee will be elected on the first Saturday in August, at the white school house in the sub district, beginning at one o'clock p. m. and closing at five p. m. This election will be by ballot, same furnished by County Clerk. Any person is eligible to the office of trustee, who is over twenty one years of age and who has been a resident of the sub district, in which he is seeking election, for more than sixty days prior to the election, and who is able to read and write as shown by the certificate of five reputable citizens of the sub district.

Any person desiring to be a candidate for trustee must present a petition to the County Clerk, on or before July 20, 1908, signed by at least ten persons who are eligible to vote at the said election in the sub district asking the County Clerk to have printed the name of the candidate for trustee up on the ballot. All MALE persons over 21 years of age who have resided in the sub district for more than 60 days prior to the date of the election shall be eligible to vote in the said election for trustee. The officers who hold this election will be appointed by the regular board of election commissioners for Garrard county. The office of all present trustees of schools in Garrard county become vacant on the first Saturday in August.

The trustees elected in the sub districts of each educational division of the county will constitute a board of trustees for the respective educational divisions of the county, and these boards, there being four in the county, will select the teachers both white and colored for next year in their respective educational division.

There are many other changes in the school law which we do not deem necessary to call the attention of the public at the present time.

J. E. Robinson,
County Att'y.

Items of Local Interest

Sunday was as hot as blue blazes.

Go to Cincinnati Sunday, only $1.75.

Wheat threshing will soon be completed.

Everything is in apple pie order for the fair.

John Robinson's big circus shows in Danville Saturday.

Members of the Lancaster band are practicing diligently, and rats are leaving town by the score.

The L & N will run a $1.75 excursion to Cincinnati next Sunday. Train leaves Lancaster at 5 a. m.

Everybody and his dog has gone to Crab Orchard fair this week. Tomorrow, Friday, is last day.

Mr. G. B. Swinebroad is in Rushville, Ind., this week, attending A. P. Walker's sale of registered jerseys.

The local political pot is beginning to boil, and candidates for the county officers are as thick as fiddlers in the warmer climate.

The City Council has put a lid on sale of all dopy drinks. See the ordinance published in this issue of The Record.

The Danville fair directors have decided to add another day to their dates and the big exhibition will run through Saturday.

The fair grounds are being put in excellent condition. President Farra and Secretary Elkin have everything in fine shape for the greatest fair ever held.

The perplexing problem of keeping a cook is causing much concern to Lancaster housewives. Conditions have about reached the point where it's quit eating or do the work yourself.

The Stanford fair, next week, is next in order, and Lancaster will send over a large delegation. Our Lincoln county friends know how to entertain, so don't miss the big fair.

The editor of The Record appreciates the compliment of being made an honorary vice president of the Danville Fair, one of the oldest and best organizations in the state.

The Winchester base ball team defeated Lancaster in that city. The Winchester team is one of the strongest in central Kentucky, and when they play Lancaster in this city next Tuesday you will see the best game of the season.

Children will be admitted free, on first day of the Lancaster fair, and every kid in the county will be there. A big ferris wheel, a "flying dutchman," swings, in fact everything for amusement of the young will be on hand, so bring them and also enjoy the day yourself. Remember, first day—the 29th.

By order of the board of directors, fishing will be allowed in Lake Placid from Monday July 29th to 25th.

Frank W. Turner, near town, has a hog six months old measuring only eleven inches in length and six inches in height. It weighs five pounds and is perfectly healthy. The hog was caught in the mountains.

Hon. Harvey Helm Returns.

Stanford Journal:—Hon. Harvey Helm is back from a trip to Panama, greatly pleased with the way the big ditch is being dug. By the way, Mr. Helm has just been appointed a delegate to the International Conference to be held at Berlin, Germany, Sept. 10, 11, 12, to represent the American Group of Interparliamentary Union.

Chapter Inspected.

Lancaster Chapter, Royal Arch Masons, was inspected last night, quite a large number of Chapter Masons being present. The inspection was made by Companion Henry G. Sandifer, of Danville, who is not only one of the brightest Masons in the South, but a Christian gentleman whom all who know him delight to respect and honor.

Jackman.

On July 7th, the remains of Mrs. Louisa West Jackman were brought to Lancaster, from LeRoy, Illinois, for burial. Mrs. Jackman was a resident of our town for a number of years, and will be remembered by the older citizens as a woman of great intelligence and strong christian character. Appropriate services were conducted at the grave by Eld. F. M. Tindler, and her body was laid to rest with that of her husband and the children who had preceded her.

Important Notice.

State and County taxes are now due. Please call and settle at once and save cost. C. A. Arnold, Sheriff. 717 1f

A protractive meeting will begin at New Antioch next Sunday at eleven o'clock a. m. U. J. Cooke of Lexington, Evangelist.

Union Meeting.

The union services will be held in the Christian church Sunday night, Mr. Brown preaching the sermon. The attendance at these services is very large, notwithstanding the fact that the weather is so boiling hot. Maybe the intense heat serves as a reminder of the future home of sinners, hence so many begin to mend their ways by attending church services.

Big Fair at Danville.

Secretary H. C. Bright, of the Danville Fair Association, has the thanks of The Record for cordialities to the big exhibition to be given in that city August 5, 6, 7. They always have a good fair in Danville, and this year, the management has doubled its efforts to have the best fair ever held. As usual, Garrard county will be well represented in attendance. Write Mr. Bright for a catalogue.

Appointments to University.

The county judge of Garrard has the appointment of two students to the school of civil engineering, State University, Lexington, and those desiring to make application should see Judge A. D. Ford at once. The tuitions are absolutely free to two students from each county. Applicants should make application to Judge Ford, stating their educational qualifications, etc. These applications will be considered by the county judge and fiscal court and certificates issued to the successful applicants.

Letcher.

Dr. Benjamin Letcher died at his home, in Henderson, Monday morning, after a protracted illness, aged 76 years. Dr. Letcher, who was one of the most prominent and popular physicians in Kentucky, was a native of Garrard county, and was greatly loved by those Lancaster people who remember him in the olden days. Dr. Letcher leaves five children, one of whom, John K., married Miss Hattie Vaughan, formerly of this city. He was a brother of Mrs. Margaret Dunn, of Lancaster. The burial took place at Henderson.

Dedication at Crab Orchard.

The pretty new Christian church, at Crab Orchard will be dedicated next Sunday morning, the 19th. The members have worked faithfully to secure the handsome building, and have certainly earned a reward in the future for their untiring energies and labor. Dinner will be served on the grounds, and all are requested to bring their pocket books to make a contribution toward liquidating the small debt remaining on the church. The sermon will be preached by Rev. Hugh McLeilan, of Richmond, and his many warm friends and admirers in this section will be delighted at the opportunity of hearing this gifted minister. Quite a number of people from Lancaster and vicinity will attend the services.

Some New School Laws.

Those persons who desire to be elected school trustees must not delay too long, under the new law, the election is no longer the simple thing that it formerly was. Before a person can be voted for he must file a petition signed by at least ten legal voters certifying that he is legally qualified to hold the position and asking the clerk to place his name on the ballot. This petition must be filed with the County Clerk at least ten days before the election, and as the election this year is on the first day of August, these petitions must be filed by July 21st, so there is only about four days to attend to the matter. In order that the new school law may have a fair trial, it is to be hoped that at least one good man will qualify in each district.

John Rucker Dead.

After an illness of several months, John Rucker died at the home of his father, Mr. I. C. Rucker, at Paint Lick, Tuesday night. Mr. Rucker was stricken by tuberculosis some time since, and was compelled to give up his work and return to the home of his father. John Rucker was a boy possessed of a warm heart, and like his grand old father, was never so happy as when doing a good turn for his fellow man. He was an expert machinist and his services were eagerly sought by mill men and others in every city where his ability was known. He made friends of all with whom he became acquainted and his death is deeply deplored. The grief stricken family have much sympathy in the loss of this, their third son, within so brief a period of time. The remains were interred in the Lancaster Cemetery Wednesday afternoon.

Farm and Stock.

At Earl Sells's sale, near Paris 19 Jersey cows brought from $31 to $80—an average of $40.00.

The man who owns a mule is likely to get a fine price for it later on. The mule is scarce everywhere and is bringing a high price now.

At a sale of Shorthorns held by Walpole Bros., and W. J. McLean on Tuesday of last week at Rock Valley, Iowa, 48 averaged $122.13.

The little town of Princetown, Minn., last year shipped 1,500 car loads of potatoes. The largest farm in the neighborhood does not exceed eighty acres.

Robert C. Gatewood, of Montgomery county, sold to Stearns & Co., of New York, 237 head of 1,600 pound cattle for over $24,000 or $6.85 per hundred. The cattle will go in September. The price obtained tops the market.

Down in Shelby county the onion growers have formed an organization. The growing of onions in that section has become an important industry and the Society was formed for the purpose of interchange of ideas and of obtaining a better and uniform price for the product.

The month of June saw the largest movement in cattle, hogs and sheep in the Louisville yards in thirty-two years. The stockmen see in the movement the beginning of a great market in Louisville. From official figures which have been compiled the movement was as follows: Received—cattle, 11,839; calves, 2,977; hogs, 73,208; sheep, 108,306. Shipped—cattle, 6,835; calves, 1,028; hogs 51,070; sheep, 92,365.

The Dover News says Mr. Frazee Weaver, the Minerva apiarist, recently shipped by rail from Dover 3,000 pounds of a fine quality of strained honey. This is the first of the two harvests of honey of the year. Mr. C. T. Biggers, of near Dover, will have as much or more from his apiary. Thus it can be easily calculated that during 1908 the bees belonging to these two gentlemen will have gathered over twelve thousand pounds of honey. And they didn't do it by sitting around gossiping about their neighbors or at tending to anybody's business but their own.

If thistles are growing upon your land you had better cut them down at once or you might be called before the grand jury. Section 200 Kentucky statutes reads: "It shall be the duty of every person or persons, and of every corporation holding land in the commonwealth, either by lease or otherwise, on which any Canada thistles, or weed commonly known as Canada thistle, may be growing to cut the same so as to prevent such weeds or thistles from going to seed and the seed of the same from ripening. Any person or persons neglecting to cut the thistles may be fined five dollars and costs for failure to comply with this law."

An Extraordinary Opportunity

Offered to one who knows the art of farming. Have decided to rent entire farm for the year 1909. This is one of the best and most productive farms in this part of the state, besides being modern and very conveniently located on pikes and railroad. In excellent neighborhood. Mrs. O. T. Wallace, Point Leavelle, Ky. For further information call on J. W. Elmore, Lancaster, or write O. T. Wallace, Wilmington, N. C.
